

CatalanNews

the latest in Catalonia, in English

Catalan News is an English-speaking media outlet that covers the latest news in Catalonia, with information and stories catered to international residents who want to stay in the loop. Our website is open to everyone, free of charge with no need to register, and provides 24/7 updates.

A daily 100-second news clip on weekdays, on-the-scene reporting, in-depth articles coupled with videos and interviews, a weekly podcast and a weekly newsletter are amongst our most popular content. As a public news organization, we take our job seriously and are always available to handle our audience's requests for information. Catalan News has built its reputation over the past few years, with some of the world's top media outlets citing us in their articles.

Stay tuned to the latest in Catalonia:

Filling the Sink

the podcast on all things Catalan

The 'Filling the Sink' podcast tackles hot topics in Catalonia every Saturday, when new episodes come out, and has been doing so since October 2020. The show covers all kinds of issues, from those relating to culture, politics, or news, as well as social debates and traditions.

Whether you live in Catalonia and want to understand current issues or you are planning a visit and want to learn about local customs and traditions, or you are just curious about what makes this place tick, 'Filling the Sink' has got you covered.

Episodes, usually 20 to 25 minutes long, include on-the-scene reporting, interviews, discussions, and, when appropriate, humor. We frequently call on our audience to contribute, while phrases in the Catalan language wrap up each podcast.

Find us on Google Podcasts, Spotify, and Apple Podcasts

Stay tuned to the latest in Catalonia:

